

A COMPREHENSIVE WORKDAY REVIEW

Dr. Workday

Is your Workday working as hard as you are? Most organizations go live and move on. Between daily operations and strategic priorities, there is rarely time to ask whether your configuration is still optimized, secure, and aligned with where your business is today. Dr. Workday is Okorio's comprehensive health assessment: a clear, objective review that tells you what is working, what is at risk, and where you are leaving value on the table.

THE CASE FOR A REGULAR ASSESSMENT

Workday evolves continuously. Bi-annual updates bring new features, your business changes, and integrations multiply. Without regular assessment, organizations face:

- Configuration drift that creates inefficiencies and user friction
- Security vulnerabilities that expose sensitive data
- Missed AI capabilities and new features that could drive real value
- Technical debt that makes future changes more complex and costly
- Reporting gaps that limit visibility into business performance

WHAT WE ASSESS

Security

In-depth review of security roles and assignments for long-term integrity.

User Experience

Improving user experience by leveraging current and new functionality.

Financial Frameworks

Addressing interdependencies to alleviate common finance pain points.

Reporting

Ensuring reports meet your long-term business requirements.

Business Process

Aligning configurations with best practices and long-term design requirements.

THE PROCESS

01 Acute Diagnosis (Complimentary)

We meet with your team to review established pain points across your Workday environment. Together we identify quick wins, areas where targeted fixes will deliver immediate impact. This session is complimentary and gives you clarity on where to focus first.

02 Focused Treatment

Our team gets to work on the quick wins identified in the diagnosis. This focused engagement delivers tangible improvements to your Workday environment without the scope or timeline of a full optimization program.

03 Long-Term Wellness

Once the quick wins are addressed, Okorio's AMS practice takes over, working through everything uncovered in the assessment and ensuring your Workday environment continues to evolve alongside your business.
